

Cavalcade riders can have even more comfort than they have ever dreamed of by adding a KG Engineering Driver's Backrest. It's made from color-matched vinyl and is fully adjustable for height, angle and fore and aft positions. The backrest pad will pivot forward for easy passenger boarding. Retail price is $149.95 from KG Engineering, 115 Front Street, Woonsocket, Rhode Island 02895; (401) 765-0130.

Hartco International has just released lambskin seat covers for the 1986 Suzuki Cavalcade. The covers are made from 100 percent garment quality lambskin and are available in 10 colors. Rain covers are also available. In addition Hartco sells covers for after-market backrests. For more information contact Hartco International, 10910 Switzer Ave., Suite 108, Dallas, Texas 75238; (214) 311-1112.

RIDER SEPTEMBER 1986 75

Cavalcade seat covers

Suzuki Cavalcade owners now can pull the wool under their thighs with a set of lambskin seat covers from Hartco International. The covers are available in 10 colors for both the saddle and the passenger backrest, for suggested retail prices of $119 and $79, respectively. For information, contact Hartco International, 10910 Switzer Ave., Suite 108, Dallas, TX 75238; 1-800-446-7772.

Drag Specialties Cavalier backrest

Suzuki's Cavalcade has so many passenger-pampering niceties that some pilots might feel like second-class citizens. They can start getting their own back, though, with a three-position-adjustable Cavalier backrest from Drag Specialties. The color-coordinated backrest pad also adjusts vertically, and the whole affair pivots forward, DS says, so the passenger can climb on and off easily. Available for all Cavalcades, the Cavalier retails for $149.95 from your motorcycle dealer or from Drag Specialties, 5401 Smetana Drive, Minnetonka, MN 55343.